A century of serving children

Care Coordinator – Wraparound

Full-time

Who we are:

For more than a century, Fred Finch Youth Center has served youth and their families in the East Bay. Today we also serve communities on the peninsula, in Solano County and San Diego County. Our clients include children, adolescents, and young adults who face varied and often multiple challenges. Many are transitioning from foster care into the adult world. Many have an emotional disturbance or mental illness. Some have both a mental illness and a developmental disability. All are economically impoverished. Most have experienced, abuse, neglect, trauma or lack of adequate health care or educational resources. To enhance the strengths and assist with the challenges of each individual, we provide a wide variety of services in several types of settings: specialty residential treatment; special education; vocational services; transitional housing; individual, group and family therapy and counseling. Services are provided in the community, in schools, in homes and at our sites.

Position Summary:

The Care Coordinator is responsible for clinical care of assigned youth and families in a community, home, or school setting. The position reports to the Clinical Supervisor and is also responsible for case management, administrative documentation, and participating in trainings as assigned. Along with the rest of the team, the Care Coordinator is active in supporting and implementing wraparound philosophy and its individualized, strengths-based, culturally competent, family-centered approach.

Requirements:

- MSW or MA in Counseling from an accredited college or university.
- Registered intern with the Board of Behavioral Sciences, license preferred.
- At least one year of post-graduate residential, milieu, or wraparound experience preferred.
- Fluency in prevailing language(s) of community where Care Coordinator will work preferred.
